FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dallas Genealogical Society Welcomes Lisa Louise Cooke, Sunny Morton, and Diahann Southard to our 2017 Summer Seminar, This August 4 and 5

Dallas, TX, April 19, 2017 - - Sources, Storytelling, & DNA is a two-day seminar featuring our three speakers. The program includes sessions on Google tools, writing your life story, genetic genealogy, using newspapers and religious records in family history research, Google Earth, and creating online videos.

Program details are available on the DGS web site: dallasgenealogy.org. From our home page > Events > Seminars > 2017 Summer Seminars. Price and registration details will be posted shortly.

The Society is sending a press release at this time in recognition of the fact that many genealogical societies and other groups do not meet during the summer months. Hopefully this early notice will allow time for our two-day event to be included in their newsletters, online calendars, and other publicity.

About Dallas Genealogical Society

Founded in 1954, the Dallas Genealogical Society (DGS) is the oldest continuously functioning society of its kind in Texas. The object of this Society is to educate by creating, fostering, and maintaining interest in genealogy; to assist and support the genealogy section of the J. Erik Jonsson Central Library in Dallas, Texas; and to collect, preserve, copy, and index information relating to Dallas County and its early history. The Dallas Public Library has been rated as one of the Top 10 libraries for genealogy research in the U.S. by Family Tree Magazine.

DGS is a nonprofit, tax-exempt corporation and a member of the National Genealogical Society (NGS) and the Federation of Genealogical Societies (FGS).
