Presents

“More Than Just Common Census, A Look At Non-Population Schedules”

By Sheryl Rascher

Using her Peters Colonist ancestors who arrived in Texas in 1841, Sheryl demonstrates historical characteristics of the U.S. Federal Census Non-Population Schedules. Genealogical content, value and availability are discussed for Agriculture, Manufacturers/Industry, Social Statistics, Slave, Defective Dependent Delinquent, Indian and Mortality Schedules.

DAY: Tuesday, April 24, 2018
TIME: 6:30 p.m. Tandy Auditorium
Central Branch, FW Library, 500 W. 3rd St.

Parking meters are free after 6 p.m. The 3rd St. Garage is free for 2 ½ hours—just validate your ticket in the library. Come at 6 p.m. for coffee.

Fort Worth native Sheryl Rascher is a veteran training developer and instructor with genealogical connections throughout Texas. Her passion is to research, capture and share, with focus on Texas and U.S. history. As a seventh grader taking Texas History, conversations with her grandmother peaked her interest in her own family history. A member of The Daughters of the Republic of Texas, she currently serves as President of the Erath County Genealogical Society and has served on the Fort Worth Genealogical Society board.

The image shows a scan of a 1900 U.S. Census form, Schedule 1: Population. The form is titled "FOURTH CENSUS OF CANADA, 1901" and "SCHEDULE 1. POPULATION." It contains a grid of columns for demographic data, including names, ages, sexes, and marital statuses. The form is filled out with handwritten entries, and there are some corrections and annotations. The form is numbered "No. 1" and "Page 1".
