Salt Lake Family History Expo Aug 28-29, 2009

Benefits of attending:

1. Experts teach best practices for successful research and how to avoid common mistakes (Value $25 per class)
2. Receive FREE research consultation (Value $50)
3. Receive handouts for all classes on one CD, there are 10 classes each hour so this is a great tool for getting more information from the classes you are unable to attend.
4. Talk directly with genealogy resource providers in Exhibit Hall and try it before you buy it
5. Social networking with other genealogists and beginning family history researchers, this is one of the most valuable aspects of the Expo. Yes, you can connect with people who want to help you reach success with your research goals

We have more than 100 classes being offered at this Expo, when you add up the value you can see that the bargain cost of attending is little in comparison to the benefits!

Retirement of Lloyd deWitt Bockstruck

Heather Williams, manager of the History, Social Sciences and Genealogy Department at the Dallas Public Library announced the retirement of Lloyd deWitt Bockstruck after 36 years of service to the Dallas Public Library. His last day with the Library was Friday, July 31, 2009.

Past FWGS Events

June Monthly Meeting

Our own Billie Beth Moore told us a lot about Cattle Brands. It seems that they are registered at the County Clerk's office of a specific county. Thus, if you know that one of your ancestors had a brand (and not necessarily owning any livestock), you can find the brand at that location.

July Monthly Meeting

Judy Knight discussed the arrangement between Footnote.com and the National Archives to place many more of the archives on the Internet. She also discussed the improvements made to the graphical interface for Footnote.com which make searching easier.

Digitizing the archives is a very labor intensive task, but work continues to reach the goal of full access.

2009 Summer Seminar

It was a glorious success. The following topics were described in detail:

1. The Draper Collection and the Shane Collection
"Two collectors of early American history, each with a different focus, yet with some crossover, these two present special collections of materials that should be looked at by almost every family researcher." (From the Seminar syllabus).
2. The Orphan Trains and other lost Babies
Fry, Annette R., "The Orphan Trains" (New York: New Discovery Books, 1994) (FWL J362.734 FRY)
3. Women and their records
Blumenthal, Walter Hart "Brides from Bridewell. Female Felons Sent to Colonial America" (Westport CT: Greenwood Press 1973)
4. Natchez Trace papers
University of Texas at Austin, The Dolph Briscoe Center for American History, <http://www.cah.utexas.edu>

All references were taken from the syllabus.

Spotlight: The Victoria Regional History Center in Texas
by Valerie Beaudrault

Victoria, located thirty miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico, is the seat of Victoria County, Texas. The Victoria Regional History Center is a department of the Victoria College — the University of Houston —Victoria Library (VC/UHV). The Center “acquires, preserves, and makes available to students, faculty and the public, archival records of enduring value that document the histories of the institutions on the Victoria College/University of Houston-Victoria campus as well as those records that preserve the social, political, economic, and cultural history of Texas, particularly the region of Texas that includes Victoria and surrounding counties.” The library’s holdings include an extensive collection of books, maps, and other published materials as well as county records, personal papers, business and association records, newspapers, and photographs.
